9.22-carat No Oil Colombian Emerald and Diamond Ring
Estimate: HK$4,800,000–6,500,000/ US$640,000–833,000

HONG KONG – 9 March 2026 – Phillips will present a curated selection of rare and important jewels during Hong Kong Art Month this March, anchored by the Hong Kong Jewels Auction on 30 March. The sale will feature an exceptional array of coloured gemstones, diamonds, jadeite, and natural pearls, alongside signature creations from Cartier, Bulgari, Van Cleef & Arpels, Glenn Spiro, and other esteemed houses. Among the highlights are Colombian no-oil emeralds, unheated Burmese rubies, and coloured diamonds of remarkable brilliance, crowned by a superb natural pearl necklace—one of the auction's important pieces. Complementing the live auction, Hong Kong Jewels: Online Auction will be open for bidding from 23–31 March.

Diana Chang, Head of Sale, Hong Kong, Phillips Jewels, said: “This season’s auction brings together an extraordinary array of jewels that celebrate the finest in rarity, craftsmanship, and design. From the vivid brilliance of Colombian emeralds and the timeless allure of jadeite to the delicate beauty of natural pearls and coloured diamonds, each piece has been thoughtfully curated to inspire collectors and connoisseurs alike.”

Precious Coloured Gemstones

This Spring, the Hong Kong Jewels Auction presents an exquisite selection of rare coloured gemstones, showcasing nature’s most captivating treasures. Leading the sale is a magnificent 9.22-carat no-oil Colombian

45.94 carat 'Colombian Muzo'
Emerald and Diamond Necklace
Estimate: HK$4,250,000–6,000,000/
US$545,000–770,000

emerald and diamond ring, prized for its intense green hue, outstanding brilliance, and exceptional clarity that is nearly eye-clean—a true marvel in today's market, where untreated emeralds of such caliber are increasingly scarce. Equally breathtaking is a 'Colombian Muzo' emerald and diamond necklace, adorned with eleven impeccably matched emeralds, totaling 45.94-carat, sourced from the legendary Muzo mine. This masterpiece exemplifies extraordinary craftsmanship and highlights the enduring allure of Colombian emeralds among discerning collectors.

Among the other standout pieces is a 5.39-carat unheated Burmese ruby and diamond ring, ablaze with a vivid red hue and remarkable clarity—an exceptional gem that reflects the rising demand for natural rubies exceeding five carats. For connoisseurs of sapphires, a stunning pair of sapphire and diamond earrings takes centre stage, featuring richly saturated royal blue Ceylon sapphires of impressive size and pristine clarity. Perfectly matched pairs of this quality are a true rarity, making them a coveted highlight in a market where top-tier Ceylon sapphires continue to garner strong interest from collectors.

Signed Jewels

Signed pieces and Art Deco jewels continue to captivate collectors worldwide, consistently achieving exceptional results at auctions. Among the standout highlights is a rare Cartier diamond, onyx, and emerald brooch, 'Panthère', exquisitely crafted in the form of a reclining panther. Rare in both size and intricate workmanship, this iconic piece exemplifies the elegance and artistry synonymous with the Cartier name. Equally remarkable is a Cartier Art Deco ruby, emerald, sapphire, and diamond bracelet from 1931—a possibly unique creation that stands as a testament to nearly a century of impeccable preservation. With its museum-quality condition and archival documentation by the House of Cartier, this bracelet offers a rare opportunity to own a piece of jewellery history.
