Olivia Thornton, Phillips' Head of 20th Century & Contemporary Art, Europe, said, "With tonight's robust result of £18.7 million, we are proud to continue the strong performance we've seen across the market this week. We have felt the exuberance of Frieze as London celebrates this defining moment in the global art calendar. Our team assembled an exciting, curated sale with a strong representation of emerging artists, setting four world auction records for Michaela Yearwood-Dan, Robert Nava, Caroline Walker, and Doron Langberg. The flavour of the sale was truly international, with bidders participating from across 38 countries. A total of 32% of registered bidders were from Asia, with notable participation online throughout the sale. We look forward to our New York and Hong Kong auctions next month."
